

NSHSS FOUNDATION NEWS!

Claes Nobel Invited to Ring the NASDAQ Closing Bell

Founder Claes Nobel has once again been invited to ring the NASDAQ bell in a special ceremony on Friday, July 9, 2010, in Times Square. NASDAQ, the largest exchange company in the world, is also committed to providing a platform to recognize philanthropic organizations and wished to showcase the NSHSS Foundation. Mr. Nobel rang the closing bell in December 2009 and in July will ring the closing bell.

The bell ringing ceremony will take place at the NASDAQ Tower at 43rd and Broadway in New York City. Those interested in attending the ceremony should contact Tricia Rockett at 866-343-1800 for information.

To watch the Closing Bell ceremony live online via the NASDAQ web cam, visit the following link:
http://www.nasdaq.com/reference/marketsite_about.stm

December 29, 2008

Claes Nobel Rings the NASDAQ Opening Bell

Founder Claes Nobel was invited to ring the NASDAQ opening bell in a special ceremony on Monday, December 29, in Times Square. NASDAQ, the largest exchange company in the world, is also committed to providing a platform to recognize philanthropic organizations and wished to showcase the NSHSS Foundation.

The opening bell ringing ceremony was broadcast live on December 29 on financial television networks, You can view the ceremony and photos from the event in the NASDAQ MarketSite studio:
http://www.nasdaq.com/reference/200812/market_open_122908.stm

The bell ringing was shown on the NASDAQ Tower at 43rd and Broadway. The tower is a high-tech electronic display that wraps around the cylindrical NASDAQ building, providing up-to-the-minute financial news, market highlights, and advertisements. The NASDAQ Tower is the largest stationary video screen in the world, standing seven stories tall. Throughout the day the Tower presents market information, NASDAQ content, advertisements, and studio ceremonies. This modern day icon illuminates Times Square 24 hours a day

